E-MAGAZINE

WEBSITE

The growth of technological innovation, boosted by IP technology, is taking the security industry towards growth and the awareness that solutions and integrations are the way forward.

For this reason, IP Security Magazine is improving its approach towards technologies. When a solution/application is relevant and represents an excellent example it is worth leaving a footprint. This magazine wants therefore to gather all the most meaningful solutions/applications, case history and ideas that led to a specific installation for vertical markets.

This online magazine is sent to a highly profiled target of readers (reaching an audience of 12.000+), covering the wide subject of IP Security in vertical markets, and therefore ICT also, with reference to both the Italian and International markets. Receivers are composed of professional figures from the security and safety sector -both public and private-, end users, facility and security managers, IT managers, CIOs, CTOs, ICT companies, HR managers and decision makers from the security sector, networking and IT.

Nowadays, SecsolutionIP is the only magazine in Italy that deals with IP solutions for vertical markets.
